

Ex1:

His name is Thierry. He is twenties. He is so different in my class. He has a long face, short and curly hair and dark-skinned with a little beard and moustache. He is wearing a blue T-shirt. He has the habit of expressing himself. He has so many questions in the class that I want to sleep when he ask the questions. If he doesn't speak French, I will think that he is an American. He is open, generous, ambitious, sociable and easy-going. He is tall and thin and has long hands like the NBA star. I think that he play basket-ball very well like the American.

Since we had a television in my family, I have started to see the news. At that time I was 5 or 6 years old. I have still remembered the first man who I have known from the news. His name is "Arafat". His enemy wants to kill him. But he is still living now. He led his people to try to build their own country in the middle-Asia. I wish that he can win. He is a hero in my heart.

There isn't any trouble in my school. I have passed the college and the high school well. After that I entered the university and picked up the scientific way without any great goal. In fact I prefer to become to an artist. But the engineer can make more money. I need money for reading, making friends, travelling ..... I wish that I can travel around the world in the future.

At first I will travel around the Europe.

Now I am in France. I continue my study for the engineer. I am waiting. I am waiting for the chance. I have had a goal, but it is not very clear. I will work hard and go to my goal.
